Description:

“North Carolina, Burke County } In the Probate Court
In the matter of the last will & testament of Wm. Bradshaw [Jr.] [#28223] Dec'd

Jessee Moore [#28225/1] & wife Dorcas [#28225] against

B. H. Martin [#28221/1] and wife Polly [#28221]

J. L. Berry [#28222/1] and wife Malinda [#28222]

The case coming on to be heard before me J. H. Hallyburton Probate Judge on this day at my office [5 Jan 1881] and it appearing by notice duly returned to this court that said Berry and wife and Martin and wife have been regularly serviced with notice that the motion herein after stated would this day and at this place be made and Jessee Moore and wife Dorcas appearing by their attorney C. H. Cilley and no appearance by the defendants either in person or by counsel having been made and D. W. Conway and Elisha Bradshaw [#2824], witnesses for the Plaintiffs, having been introduced, sworn and examined and it appearing from their testimony (and it is hereby found as facts by the court). That Wm. Bradsahw Jr. did during the war having first made and published a last will and Testament in writing, executed with all the formalities necessary to pass both personal and real estate to which the last will and testament the said D. W. Conway and Elisha Bradshaw were the attesting witnesses. That the following disposition of the said Testators property was made by the said will.

He gave all his estate both real and personal to his father Wm. Bradshaw Sr. [#2822] for life; then to his mother for life; then to his sister Malinda Bradshaw [#28224] for life, then to the children of Dorcas Moore and Malinda Berry in fee simple to have and to hold to them and their heirs forever subject however to three legatees of [$5] each, one to be paid to Polly Martin, one to Malinda Berry and one to Dorcas Moore. And that said will remained revoked after the death of the said Testator. And it is further found as a fact by the court that the said will with ~~the record~~ of the record of the registration and Probate thereof was destroyed during the occupation of the town of Morganton by the Federal Troops in the year 1865. That the Executor of said will died intestate. That the will was afterwards set up in this court and the petition of R. R. McCall of Caldwell County, who after the setting up of said record duly qualified as Administrator C. S. A. & D. B. N. That the said R. R. McCall is dead and said record is lost and can not after diligent search be found among the files in this office. It is therefore considered by the Court that the following so far as it relates to the disposition of the property of the said Testator be set up and restored as a record of this Court and enrolled in the proper book, To wit:

North Carolina, Burke County

I William Bradshaw Jr. do make and publish and decree this to be my last will and testament.

I bequeath to my sister Polly my sister Mahala and to my sister Dorcas the sum of [$5] each to be paid by my executor.

I give and devise all my estate, both real and personal after paying the above legacies to my father for life, from and after the expiration of his natural life, then to my mother for life, then to my sister Malinda for life, from and after the expiration of her natural life, then to the living children of my sister Dorcas Moore and my sister Mahala Berry to have and to hold to them and to their heirs forever. I hereby appoint [blank] as my executor.

Witnesses D. W. Conway, Elisha Bradshaw

It is further ordered that the cost of this proceeding be paid by the estate of Wm. Bradshaw Jr. [5 Jan 1881. J. H. Hallyburton, Probate Judge.

Since these Proceeding were had a record of the former proceedings in the matter of this will have been found on Special Proceedings Docket No. 1 Page 349.”

¹ Definition: Tales (tay-leez or taylz) are a group of additional jurors who are summoned to fill a panel that has become deficient in number due to juror challenges or exemptions. They are usually drawn from the bystanders present at the courthouse. The term comes from the Latin word "talis," which means "such," and is used in the phrase "tales de circumstantibus," which means "such of the bystanders." (<https://www.lsd.law/define/tales>)

He often heard the said Robert Bradshaw say he came from Goochland County, Virginia, where he was raised, to this Country. He often heard him talk of his services in the Revolutionary War and of the battles in which he bore a part. He was a Virginia soldier and served in the Virginia Line. This deponent says that Robert Bradshaw was always reputed to have been a Revolutionary soldier and universally believed to have been such. This deponent is well acquainted with all the children of Robert Bradshaw. He had one child Betsey [#4121] by his first wife. She married Themothy Merrill [#4121/1] and moved to Tennessee. He had five children by his second wife, to wit, Polly [#4122], Unity [#4123], Austen [#4125], William [#4124], and Robert Bradshaw [#4126]. Of these, Unity and William are dead. The rest are living and residing in this part of the Country. Robert Bradshaw lived on the east bank of the Yadkin River about 5 miles above Long’s Ferry, formerly Rowan but not Davidson County, where he settled soon after he moved from Virginia and where he lived and died.
